Dr. Dale Moody, Professor of Theology at Southern Seminary, Louisville, Ky., will be the guest speaker at the morning worship service. This is a part of our 125th Anniversary Observance. Dr. Moody is one of the outstanding preachers and teachers of our day. He was awarded the Doctor of Theology Degree by Southern Seminary, and has done further study in Germany, Scotland, and Switzerland. He is serving at the Sunday School Assembly at Eagle Eyrie this week.

The Sunday Evening Worship Service will be devoted to the dramatization of the development of the Training Union as the program of training in church membership. Mrs. Franklin Vaughan will be directing the program.

Dr. James V. Lackey, Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tenn., led the morning worship services last Sunday. There were 363 in Bible Study, which is about fifty-two above average August attendance for our church. The story of Sunday School was developed at the Sunday evening service, under the direction of Mrs. James Cravens, with 106 in attendance at the Training Union and 135 in evening worship attendance. Although the Sunday School and Training Union missed their attendance goals for last Sunday, each exceeded the averages for the month for previous years.

The emphasis for next Sunday August 23, will be Missions, and Dr. Floyd North, Editor of the Commission, denominational Foreign Missions magazine, will be the guest worship leader. The Story of Missions will be developed under the leadership of Mrs. W. W. Scott.

Bible Baptist Church

This week the congregation of the Bible Baptist Church is moving their place of meeting. For approximately six years they have been meeting in a cinderblock business establishment across from the Appomattox Garment Company on Highway No. 460. After selling this property, they purchased an acre of land on the East Court Road about 200 yards from the intersection of highways Nos. 24, 26 and 460.

The first service in the new building will be held this Sunday, August 16, at 10:00 A. M. Services will be conducted for about a month in the recently completed basement quarters. A dedication service is planned for mid-September, at which time the building is to be completed.

The pastor and the entire congregation extend a very warm invitation to the public to worship with them at the new location. The regular weekly service schedule will be as follows, according to pastor, A. R. Hite:

Sunday School, 10:00 A. M.
Morning Worship, 11:00 A. M.
Evening Evangelistic Service, 7:45 P. M.
Mid - Week Service, Wednesday at 7:45 P. M.

Concord.- Mrs. Heath Tweedy Nash, 57, Route 1, Concord, died Thursday afternoon, after a long illness.

Born in Campbell County, Sept. 10, 1901, she was the daughter of George Dabney and Mary Martin Tweedy. She was a member of the New Chapel Baptist Church, in Campbell County.

Surviving are her husband, Harry T. Nash; three daughters, Mrs. James T. Williamson, of Concord; Mrs. S. S. Lawrence, of Lynchburg; Mrs. Edward Cheatham, of Spout Spring, and one son, Harold T. Nash of Appomattox; her foster father, Andrew B. Martin, Columbus, Ohio; 14 grandchildren, and one great grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 A. M. Saturday in the New Concord Presbyterian Church, by the Rev. George Aikel, and Rev. Chrroll Welch. Pallbearers were: Franklin Tweedy, Ray Tweedy, Elliott Marshall, Franklin Marshall, and Alex Cheatham and David Tweedy.

POSTMASTER REPORTS PROGRESS IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST SMUT MAIL TO CHILDREN

Postmaster R. L .Wingfield reports that the Post Office Department's drive to stamp out the activities of "merchants in filth" who solicit minor children for the mail-order sale of obscene materials is making substantial headway.

Postmaster General Arthur B. Summerfield, he states, is taking increasingly effective action against this growing, nation-wide racket.

Postmaster General Summerfield has notified the local postmaster that during the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1959, the Post Office Department conducted more than 14,000 separate investigations of traffic in mail order obscenity, of which approximately 10,000 were based on complaints from parents aroused to the menace presented by "the vicious arrogance of the smut racketeers."

Actual arrests during the year, according to Postmaster Wingfield, totaled 315, a significant increase over the previous year, r d almost double the number of arrests during 1957, when the Post Office Department was still hampered by inadequate enforcement legislation.

Prior to the summer of 1958, antiquated laws and liberal court interpretations . Postmaster General Summerfield prefers to call them "maintepretations" . . required that even the most blatant profiteer, sending the vileat possible material through the mails to school age children, could be prosecuted only at the point of origin of the mail, usually New York or Los Angeles.

According to Postmaste.. Wingfield, the "liberal" courts in these cities established a definition of "obscenity" far different from views held by the majority in most normal American communities.

In 1958, the Postmaster General recommended new legislation to the 85th Congress, which would permit prosecution of such racketeers at the point where the mail was received, and where the actual attempt to corrupt childrens' moral and social health took place.

Congress promptly responded to the Postmaster General's plea, and translated the recommendation into law.

Postmaster Wingfield reports that this new legislation is now beginning to bear fruit.

The first case prosecuted under the new law was of a man and his wife on the West Coast who were mailing obscene literature to youngsters in Boise, Idaho.

ALFALFA SEEDING IS IMPORTANT

There are seevral enthusiastic alfalfa growers in Russel County, but one of the "hottest on the subject", according to County Agent A. L. Eller, Jr., is Collie J. Combs, who operates a 270-acre farm in the Big A Mountain section near Honaker.

Collie and his son, Jim, operate their rather steep, rolling farm as a general livestock operation. They produce feeder calves from a 40-cow high grade Angus herd and milk about a dozen cows from which Grade "C" milk is sold. In addition, there are young replacement dairy and beef cattle and a 40-ewe farm flock.

An abundance of feed is needed for these livestock, and the Combs produce it on sixty acres of cropland.

Mr. Combs was a leader in Russell County in contour strip farming. This practice retarded run-off and did a satisfactory job, but the hills were still just as steep when it came to cultivating or harvesting corn, Eller points ot.

Mr. Combs' good judgement told him that the steepest of these acres should be turned back to pasture and the next steepest thirteen acres were seeded to permanent alfalfa and orchard grass mixtures.

In talking about alfalfa, Mr. Combs will tell you that he feels the things most important in establishing a stand of alfalfa are proper seeding and proper fertilization.

He outlines his seeding program this way:

(1) Test soil a year in advance and apply lime if needed.

(2) Plow up old sod or disk heavily following small grain in early summer — the earlier the better.

(3) Disk the land to keep down weeds and firm the seedbed.

(4) Seed in late July or early August after a good sod - soaking rain.

(5) Use plenty of borated fertilizer sucha s 1000 pounds of 2-12-12 and work well into the seedbed.

(7) Broadcast seed and run a cultipacker over the field. Use 20 to 25 pounds of certified alfalfa seed and 4 pounds of orchard grass per acre.

After the stand is established, Combs topdresses each spring with 375 pounds of borated 0-20-40 par acre.

"This system has evidently paid off when you check the yields that these acres produce," Eller says.

When baled for hay, the yield is four tons plus per acre. The first cutting this spring was chopped and stored in a new bunker silo and made a yield of 7 1-2 tons of silage per acre.

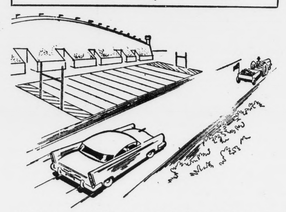
Can You Stop In Time?



It takes more than the distance between goal posts on a football field (100 yards) to stop a car traveling at 60 miles per hour under the best driving conditions, 4-H Club members point out. At 60 mph. a car travels 88 feet per second. There's not much "time" to come to a dead stop upon approaching a tractor or other slow-moving farm machinery.

"Highway safety is everyone's responsibility," 4-H leaders declare, and during the summer when traffic is at its peak the obligation becomes greater. The devastating fact that three out of four traffic fatalities occur in rural areas makes the 4-H Safety program the "number one crop" for nearly a million conscientious club members.

Statistics reveal that there are more teen-age drivers on the highways today than ever before. It is also true that drivers under 20 years of age have a worse safety record than older drivers.

So each 4-H boy and girl enrolled in the safety project is encouraged to become a "self-policing committee of one." These 4-H'ers make certain that the family car, truck, and tractor are in safe operating condition at all times.

For the past 15 years the 4-H Safety program has been supported nationally by General Motors, which among other things provides incentive awards for top ranking club members in each state. The awards consist of $400 college scholarships, all-expense paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, medals of honor, and plaques. The program is under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service, United States Department of Agriculture.

Steadfast Love

Lesson for August 16, 1959

WHY IS IT (some have asked) that we hear so much about the love of God in the New Testament, but in the Old Testament and his love seldom mentioned? The answer is, that it is all through the Old Testament too, occurring not less than 215 times. In the Hebrew original, that is. For centuries this fact was concealed from the English-speaking reader by translations which turned the Hebrew word into "mercy" or "kindness" or other words. It is now realized that the best way to translate that common word is "steadfast love," and it is so translated throughout the Revised Standard Version. It means something stronger than simply "love;" it expresses the enduring, persistent, patient and steadfast quality of God's love to man.

Dr. Foreman

Love Among the Ruins

People ask sometimes, What does the Bible tell us about God that other religions do not? Are not all religions worshipping the same God by different names? Of course the one greatest truth about God, which we find in the Bible and nowhere else, is that he is the God and Father of Jesus Christ. But long before Jesus was born, the Hebrews knew that God is a God of steadfast love. Other religions did not know this. That God is to be honored, worshipped, obeyed and feared, yes all religions knew that. But only the Hebrews knew the God who is Love.

It may be a surprise, but it is very like the whole Bible, that we should run across the same little word ("chesed" in Hebrew), in a very unpromising place, the book of Lamentations. This little "book" (5 pages long) lives up to its name; it is the most mournful book in the Bible. Well it may be; for it was written about the dreadful time after the downfall of Jerusalem, in the cruel hardships of defeat. Yet even here the "steadfast love" of God is felt and praised. Even among the ruins of a once fair city, the inspired poet does not give up his faith in the God of love.

New Every Morning

There is a wonderful thing about the love of God, which all those who know the true God realize, even when they do not understand it. That is, his love never grows stale. It is never, so to speak, a habit, it is always a surprise. Just at the moment of deepest discouragement, just at the very brink of fatal temptation, the inner Voice speaks, and joy and strength return again. God's love is the most surprising thing in the world. It is, as this poet of the Lamentations said, new every morning. We do not deserve it, we may give up counting on it—but there it is.

All God's saints, that is, those who have felt most deeply this divinely persistent and pervasive love, have discovered at some time or other, usually at some crisis, some time of trouble or of grief, that it is not on the sunniest days that God is most likely to make himself known.

No Heavenly Grandfather

The writer of Lamentations leaves with us a needed warning. It is easy to get a little too enthusiastic about the love of God. Many persons have felt so sure of it—and sure of God—that they felt now they had a license, so to speak, to do whatever they like. They think of God's love as something so sure and certain, so guaranteed, that nothing they do makes any difference to God. He is no longer a heavenly Father, in their sight, he becomes a heavenly grandfather. He is up there always ready with something specially nice for his favorite little ones. But the poet of the Lamentations knew better than that. In the downfall of his beloved city he sees the hand of God, a God who had endured the carelessness, disobedience and pride of his people till (to use Isaiah's word) he was tired of it. A father or mother, if they really love a child, will discipline the child when he needs it. A father who would never punish his son, no matter what, does not actually love him. It is because of God's love, not in spite of it, that he punishes us.
